Abdón Pedrajas Littler has hired Sara Olabarría, until now an associate at Broseta, to strengthen the firm's international client advisory services

The signing of Sara Olabarría (pictured), who joins the Labour law firm as an associate after working for almost five years in Broseta's Labour department comes after the recent alliance between Abdón Pedrajas and Littler Mendelson, the largest Labour law firm in the world, through which the Spanish firm is part of Littler Global, Littler Mendelson's international structure, as exclusive partner in Spain.

With a degree in Law from the Universidad de Deusto and a Master's degree in Labour Law from the Centro de Estudios Garrigues and in Business Law from the Universidad Pontificia Comillas ICAI-ICADE, the new associate of Abdón Pedrajas Littler specialises in Labour Law and Corporate legal advice. Thus, her experience focuses on legal advice and legal representation in court for national and international companies, in all matters, highlighting labour relations in the company, termination, collective and trade union relations, Social Security, occupational hazards, ITSS, expatriation and international Labour relations, Corporate Restructuring and Labour Due Diligence.

Olabarría began her professional career at Abdón Pedrajas in 2012 and since 2016 she has been an associate at Broseta. In this regard, Antonio Pedrajas, managing partner of Abdón Pedrajas Littler, welcomes the return to the firm of professionals "of Sara's talent and professional capacity, who, over the years, has acquired considerable experience with international clients, so her incorporation is an invaluable reinforcement for the firm in this new stage."

The incorporation of Sara Olabarría joins the recent incorporation of María Romero, associate at KPMG Abogados, and the appointment of María Orio as partner, all of them aimed at consolidating the Litigation and Labour consultancy support for the firm's international clients.
