Abreu Advogados has advised Symington Family Estates, a firm that produces port wines, in the purchase of Casa de Rodas, one of the historic properties of the Monção and Melgaço region, which includes a 17th century manor house and 27.4 hectares of vineyard, planted exclusively with the Alvarinho grape variety.

Symington Family Estates had a turnover last year of €105 million and is one of Portugal's leading wine producers, owning and managing four major historic Port houses: Graham's, Cockburn's, Dow's and Warre's.
