Bruno Azevedo Rodrigues is the most recent partner at Abreu Advogados. The lawyer reinforces the firm's team in the projects & structured finance area, together with three new lawyers: João Lupi, Rui Ferreira de Almeida and Ashick Hussein Remetula. With over 25 years of experience, Azevedo Rodrigues is one of the most recognised lawyers in the areas of projects and project finance, especially in the energy sector. He joins from Telles, having also worked at DLA Piper ABBC and Miranda, and he is also the legal advisor to the board of Associação Portuguesa of Renewable Energies and the board of directors of ENERSIS (Babcock Group).

For Inês Sequeira Mendes, managing partner at Abreu Advogados, "Bruno Azevedo Rodrigues is a with a curriculum and experience that speak for themselves. It is a reference in the market for customers and their pairs. His competence has been repeatedly reflected in rankings and directories, which underline his trajectory and experience in conducting and monitoring large projects. Bruno adds value to a key area two for Abreu, crucial for many of our customers and in several markets. We are very pleased to be able announce this reinforcement to our clients and partners."
