Andersen advises Hotelverse on the closing of a funding round to promote the national and international growth of its innovative hotel booking tool

Andersen has advised Hotelverse, a hotel booking tool, on the closing of a funding round. The company will use this capital injection to promote the national and international growth.

This technological tool looks forward to improve and optimize the user experience in hotel reservations without intermediaries.

The advisor on this transaction was Javier Bustillo (pictured), partner of Andersen in the Corporate and M&A practice.
