Andersen has opened its new headquarters in Valencia, located in an emblematic building in the city centre, with which it seeks to boost the firm's continued growth.

Nowadays, Andersen is present worldwide in 165 countries, with more than 360 offices, 71 in Europe and mostly in Spain in the major capitals such as Valencia, Madrid, Barcelona and Seville.

"This change of office is part of our objective to improve the quality of our professionals and our services", said the managing partner, José Vicente Morote (pictured).

He also highlighted the extraordinary work culture of the valencian community, which he defined as "a land of entrepreneurs, of hard-working and committed people, which perfectly represents Andersen's values".
