Antas da Cunha Ecija has opened an office in Oporto.

The new office will be led by the firm's of counsel Ana Bastos, who heads Antas da Cunha Ecija's TMT, privacy and cybersecurity team.

The firm said the Oporto office would have "three fully dedicated associates". The office will be located in the city's Av. De França.

Antas da Cunha Ecija managing partner Fernando Antas da Cunha (pictured with Ana Bastos) said: "Porto is increasing as a technological cluster, attracting highly qualified talent and many national and international business groups – since Antas da Cunha ECIJA is a full-service international office, the presence in Porto makes perfect sense."

Spanish firm Ecija merged with Portuguese firm Antas da Cunha in 2017.
