Ayuela Jiménez has appointed Ion Mendizábal (pictured centre), from Grupo Stoneshield, as the new partner responsible for labour law.

Mendizábal has a law degree from the University of Deusto and a master's degree in corporate legal consultancy from the same university. He has worked in different companies, law firms and listed companies, such as Banco Inversis, Ricardo de Nagel Abogados, Cebek and Neinor Homes.

With more than 18 years of experience, the new partner of Ayuela Jiménez specialises in labour advice, with special emphasis on company restructuring and collective dismissals, labour inspections, collective bargaining, substantial modifications, labour audits or subrogation of staff.

With this incorporation, the firm has six partners and a growth plan that aims to have a turnover of five million euros by 2025.
