Baker McKenzie has hired Juan Manuel Pérez Iglesias (pictured) as new of counsel for its accounting law practice.

Pérez Iglesias holds a degree in law from the UNED and in economics and business administration from the University of Zaragoza.

He is currently a tax inspector and state auditor on leave of absence. He is also a member of the Institute's Advisory Committee as an accounting expert of recognised prestige and in recent years has been a member of the valuation team of the National International Taxation Office of the Spanish tax agency.

Baker McKenzie incorporates him as of counsel underlining that he is one of the leading experts in accounting law and that through this incorporation the firm seeks to give a new strategic impulse to the tax and transactional areas.
