BDO Abogados has advised International Aerospace Coatings on the award of the public domain concession for the private use of a paint hangar at Teruel Airport, which will operate the new facility for €755,000 per year for 25 years and provides for the creation of between 80 and 90 jobs in the next two years.

Through this agreement, International Aerospace Coatings (IAC) intends to build a second paint hangar at the industrial airport of Teruel, with an estimated investment of €20 million, which will generate 60 additional jobs in 2026.

The team from BDO Abogados advising on this deal was formed by Javier Gómez-Ferrer (pictured), director in the legal area; Concha Serna, manager, and Vicente Ibor, junior.
