Pablo Martínez Llorente launches a new law firm specialised in Litigation, Arbitration and

Dispute Resolution, as founder and partner

As stated in his LinkedIn profile, Pablo Martínez Llorente (pictured), a lawyer at Carles Cuesta Abogados since 2019, has left the law firm to found a new law firm specialised in Litigation, Arbitration and Dispute resolution, as founder and partner. The name of the new law firm, according to this same information, is likely to be White Well Legal S.L.P.

Pablo has also worked at Uría Menéndez as principal associate for almost nine years and started his career as a junior associate in prestigious law firms such as Baker McKenzie and Hogan Lovells.

He graduated in Law and Business Administration and Management from Universidad Pontificia Comillas. He also holds a ThePowerMBA programme.
