CRS Advogados, founded seven years ago by Nuno Pereira da Cruz, Raquel Galinha Roque and Telmo Guerreiro Semião, has moved to a new office in Lisbon located in Amoreiras, on Avenida Conselheiro Fernando Sousa, the headquarters of the firm that also has offices in Porto and Algarve.

Nuno Pereira da Cruz, managing partner of CRS Advogados, states that "the move is the culmination of an investment in providing the best access and conditions in a logic of proximity and care for clients and team in a prime area of the city. "This is a determinant positioning in our expansion strategy thinking about the future", he adds.

This change also translates a repositioning of the full service firm in a new level of excellence, with emphasis in the areas of Gold Visas, Media Law, Immigration, Real Estate, Litigation, Labor Law and Tax Law.

CRS Advogados began its activity in 2015 with five employees in a small office in Lisbon and currently has 18 people distributed throughout the country. It is also present internationally through local partners.
