Cruz, Roque, Semião Advogados has become part of the Alianza Legal Latin-American (ALL).

ALL is an international alliance of law firms of recognized prestige, multidisciplinary character and dedicated to providing services at the institutional level, present in eight countries - Chile, Colombia, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Spain, Ecuador, Panama and now Portugal.

Nuno Pereira da Cruz, managing partner at CRS Advogados comments that "due to the growing number of clients from Latin America, as well as the interest of portuguese clients in expanding their business to these markets, CRS Advogados thought that it would be an added value to integrate this alliance of lawyers in order to speed up international procedures and provide a better legal service".

CRS Advogados is a portuguese law firm with a strong focus on private clients and international business, and it currently has offices in Lisbon (head office), Porto, the Algarve and the Azores.
