Cuatrecasas has advised the fund manager Axon Partners Group on the creation of the private equity fund Isetec V FCR

Cuatrecasas has advised the fund manager Axon Partners Group, on the creation of the private equity fund Isetec V FCR. The fund will have a size of €150 million and will focus on innovative companies listed on European alternative stock markets, which offer great opportunities in small caps in the technology sector.

A spokesperson from the firm said: "With this operation, Axon Partners Group aims to create a new line of investment which operates between venture capital and value funds, thus achieving a balance between profitability, risk and liquidity. They have high expectations for this fund, especially given the good dynamics and performance of the European smaller companies sector in recent times."
