Cuatrecasas has advised a startup providing data orchestration and workflow software for life sciences, Seqera Labs, in raising €22m.

The startup is helping the biotech sector to operate in a more agile and efficient way, which in turn allows researchers more time and resources to focus on scientific breakthroughs.

The team from Cuatrecasas advising Seqera Labs was formed by the partner, Isabel Gandoy (pictured) and the associates, Xavier Morera and Santiago Casas.
