Deloitte Legal and Universidad Carlos III de Madrid have agreed on the creation of the Deloitte Legal course in Business Law

Luis Fernando Guerra (pictured left), managing partner of the law firm, and Juan Romo (pictured right), dean of the Carlos III University of Madrid, were in charge of sealing the agreement.

The aim of this course is to promote training and study in relation to the different legislations that regulate business activity in all its areas, including commercial, transaction, regulatory, corporate governance and arbitration matters.
