The multidisciplinary team from DLA Piper that has advised Terrapilar and Jorge Fernández Cerámicas during this operation, consisted of Orson Alcocer (pictured left), partner in charge of the Real Estate department and Enrique Chamorro (pictured right), partner from the Commercial department. They were assisted by Héctor Gómez, senior associate, and Laura Santos Perez -Arregui, associate, both from the Commercial department.

With this operation, the two companies will considerably increase their turnover and will be leaders in the market for the sale of ceramics in Spain. Terrapilar has 6 points of sale and its turnover amounted to €28.5 million. For their part, Jorge Fernández also has 6 points of sale and achieved a turnover of €35 million euros.
