Ecija has advised the Starlite festival in all matters relating to the organisation of the festival such as contracts with artists, rights licences, sponsorship contracts, service provision contracts, as well as in labour and procedural matters.

Starlite Catalana Occidente is one of the reference festivals in Spain and Europe. With ten editions behind it, it has established itself as the longest-lasting festival, regularly programming more than 50 days of concerts.

The festival closes its doors with an edition that has contributed €315.5 million to the spanish GDP, 6,450 jobs in the area and reached 362,000 visitors, 80,000 more than in 2019, being the longest festival in the world.
