Ejaso ETL Global has hired criminal lawyer, María Victoria Vega (pictured), to lead the firm's compliance practice.

Vega holds a law degree from the Complutense University of Madrid and specialises in money laundering and tax fraud offences, as well as in the development and defence of criminal compliance programmes for numerous companies.

She also teaches at the Escuela de Organización Industrial (EOI), the Universidad Rey Juan Carlos (URJ) and the Universidad Europea de Madrid (UEM).

Ejaso's new partner has more than 25 years of experience and has worked at El Corte Inglés, where she implemented and managed the Regulatory Compliance department. Later, in 2013, she founded her own firm, VDT Abogados, which she has managed until joining Ejaso.
