EY Abogados has signed Isabel Merenciano as partner to lead the labour law practice in the firm's office in Valencia

Merenciano (pictured) specializes in labour law and has nearly 20 years of experience in social, contentious and criminal matters, always linked to labour issues, advising many companies and institutions, especially in collective bargaining, restructuring, compensation agreements and senior management. Since 2001, she was working at Broseta, where she joined as director of the labour area and was later appointed partner.
