Vanessa Rodrigues Lima said: "A personal project through which I intend to provide highly specialised legal advice on Immigration and Foreign Investment in Portugal. It was a big step, a calculated risk, but I must say that I have never been so excited at a professional level. Several people and moments (good and not so good) throughout my career contributed to this decision that made me think, why not take a risk? Time went by, I settled in and some dreams were left behind. Well, that has changed! Now begins a new challenge that involves a lot of work and responsibility, but that certainly, with commitment, will be successful."
