Garrigues is the law firm with the best reputation in Spain, according to new research.

A study ranking the 100 most reputable companies in Spain had Garrigues in 65th position.

Garrigues was the only law firm to be ranked in the top 100 in the study, which was conducted by Merco, an organisation that evaluates corporate reputation.

Three of the 'Big Four' auditing companies – which also have legal arms – were included in the top 100. Deloitte, in 59th place, was ranked the highest, while PWC was in 68th place, and EY was in 90th position.

The top five companies in the rankings were Inditex (1st), Mercadona (2nd), Santander (3rd), Repsol (4th) and Telefónica (5th).
