Gentile Law has hired Marta Batalla (pictured) as a new partner for the corporate and M&A department.

Batalla has an international background from the IVY League university, Cornell Law School in the US. In this way, she brings a global vision of the corporate and transactional world to the firm of which she is now a partner.

She also began her professional career at Clifford Chance and worked as an international lawyer at Davis Polk and Simpson Thacher, in their Madrid and London offices.
