Grupo DAS launches the second edition of its legaltech acceleration programme DAS Innovation Lab with the support of AticcoLab, a global innovation platform where startups, corporates, mentors and investors coexist.

The acceleration programme will allow the selected startups to generate growth opportunities and accelerate their business models until their next investment round, thanks to a select group of specialists who will support them during the six months of the programme.

As in the first edition, the selected startups will be able to improve and test their business model with expert input, access technical assets and data against which to test their models and operations, have access to DAS Seguros' commercial network and business channels, as well as integrate into the company's portfolio of solutions and gain access to its customers and potential partners.

"Once again, we are proud to continue supporting the entrepreneurial ecosystem with this initiative, which demonstrates our firm commitment to open innovation. Our main objective is to develop disruptive solutions that bring added value to the end customer, our partners, entrepreneurs and the sector", says Jordi Rivera, CEO of Grupo DAS.
