Hogan Lovells' Madrid office has promoted Eduardo Pérez and Virginia Martínez to counsels for the Corporate M&A and insurance department respectively

Martínez (pictured right) joined the firm in 2008 and focuses her practice on Insurance and Reinsurance Regulatory and Litigation. She has extensive experience adapting insurance products to Spanish regulations (review of terms and conditions, information note, insurance application, etc.) and in setting up structures for their marketing in the market.

Pérez (pictured left) has been part of the corporate team at the Madrid office of Hogan Lovells since September 2014. He specializes in advising national and international clients in various areas of business law, such as domestic and international corporate restructuring, stock market operations, company acquisitions and sales, joint ventures and general business contracting. He joined the firm from Cuatrecasas.
