On the Spanish cover, Iberian Lawyer highlights the World Law Congress 2021 preparation in Barranquilla (Colombia) featuring the president of the World Jurist Association, Javier Cremades. Also, on the front page, we highlight the conversation with the journalist and doctor in International Public Law and International Relations, and expert in Legal Communication, Alfonso Merlos. With him, IBL talks about "Justice and Communication", the economic recovery, and we take the opportunity to learn about his current professional projects.

In On the Move, our readers will find some of the most outstanding lateral hirings and movements of the last period in Spain and Portugal. Meanwhile, in On the Web, we observe how the desired recovery is closer every month.

On the English cover, and as a Law Firm Profile, Iberian Lawyer presents Fernando Antas da Cunha, founder of Antas da Cunha Ecija & Associados, who tells Iberian Lawyer how the firm has grown since its foundation and how it has managed to carve out an important niche in the market, with a unique identity.

From the in-house world, we have an international representation in this issue, with the Spanish lawyer Enrique Medina Malo, Legal director and head of Compliance at Virgin Media O2 (a joint venture of Telefónica and Liberty Global created last June) and with the Portuguese in-house Maria João Faisca, Legal director of the well-known Impresa group since a few months ago.

From our sister magazine MAG, Iberian Lawyer brings you an interview with Marco Rossi, an international Tax expert since 2005 active in the U.S.A. (specifically in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco) under the brand name Marco Q. Rossi and Associates, in order to assist companies in their overseas business.

From Brussels, as November's Partner Abroad, we have Ramón García-Gallardo. He is head of the King & Wood Mallesons office in the European capital and head of the firm's Competition department in Spain.

On the other hand, as November's Young & Unstoppable, we get to know better Cristina Hernández Tielas, Legal director of British American Tobacco (BAT).

Speaking of recovery, the Private Equity expert, managing director of Private Direct Equity at CPP Investments, and Portuguese resident in London, Ricardo Caupers confirms to IBL that investment opportunities in Iberia are in logistics and transport sector.

Besides, from this month on, Iberian Lawyer offers two new sections that we hope will be useful and helpful: The coach's approach, with Bárbara de Eliseu, who will offer you good advice in each issue, and Legal Marketing Pills; a section in which different Communication and Marketing agencies will be giving key ideas for positioning your law firm in the market, as well as your services and your offer in a totally irresistible way.

The summary of the IP & TMT Awards of Spain and the usual collaborations of Women in a Legal World, Association of Corporate Counsel and World Compliance Association complete this edition.
