In Law Alliance, an international network of law firms, has appointed Diego Cabezuela (pictured) as its new chairman. Cabezuela has more than 30 years of experience in the courts and is a specialist in economic criminal law, corporate law and criminal compliance.

He holds a law degree from the Complutense University of Madrid and was the international president of the World Compliance Association (WCA) until the end of last year. He has also participated in congresses, round tables and debates on corporate criminal liability.

With this appointment, Diego Cabezuela replaces the argentinean lawyer Ángeles Solana, from MSO Abogados, who has taken over the position of executive secretary.
