JDA has appointed José Vicente Campos (pictured) as new managing partner in Madrid, strengthening the office of a firm that has three other offices: Barcelona, Granollers and Sabadell.

The new managing partner holds a degree in economics from the University of Murcia, specialising in finance and public sector economics. He also holds a master's degree in taxation and tax consultancy from the Centro de Estudios Financieros in Valencia and a master's degree in general management from EAE Business School.

Campos also has years of experience as a tax advisor and in the field of mergers and acquisitions thanks to his time at different firms such as PwC.
