J+Legal, with a team coordinated by Jorge Brito Pereira, partner, has advised NextBITT, a Portuguese technological company specialised in physical assets management, on its partnership with Explorer Investments, a private equity investment fund which has also invested in the technological sector.

The partnership now created aims for the internationalisation to 5 years of NextBitt's business and a whole set of business development of the technology company that, since 2015, operates in the areas of asset management, facility management, field service, Internet of Things (IoT) and sustainability.

Jorge Brito Pereira states that "being present in advising these contracts that represent investments in state-of-the-art technology also means being challenged to be present in the law of the future". J+Legal has been developing an autonomous project - J+Next - to support the growth of Portuguese technology companies, which will be formally launched after the summer.
