Porto-headquartered José Pedro Aguiar-Branco Advogados (JPAB) has reinforced its public law team with the hiring of associate lawyer Rodrigo Valz Correia.

Volz (pictured) specializes in administrative law, with a special focus on public procurement and the public water supply. He has extensive experience in litigation related to the private ownership of parcels of land in the public water sector, specifically land on the banks of maritime and river waters.

He is also a legal adviser for public procurement at InvestBraga.

JPAB has 55 lawyers.
