Lawesome has signed Alex Linacisoro (pictured) as a new partner in the tax and fiscal area. Linacisoro has extensive experience in the financial sector and important national and international law firms.

Furthermore, the new partner of Lawesome specialises in M&A transactions and tax planning for companies and business groups. He began his career in the tax department of Bufete Barrilero y Asociados in Bilbao and Madrid, and later joined Norgestion as a partner in the tax area in its Bilbao office.

He is also a frequent speaker at tax forums and has lectured on the University of Deusto's Masters in Tax Consultancy and Financing for SMEs.

"It is a real pleasure to join an avant-garde team, with innovative clients and a promising and exciting trajectory. The market the firm is targeting is exciting and its speed of evolution makes it a challenge from the point of view of my area of expertise", says Linacisoro.
