Lawyou law firm has created its own training school for lawyers, Lawyou Academy, and has appointed Patricia Aira as Academic Director

Lawyou Academy will develop its activity in two main areas: training and publications.

This way the law firm complements its service portfolio offered to the firm's lawyers, characterized by its accessibility and flexibility.

To this end, Patricia Aira, Lawyou's partner since early 2019, has been elected by the firm to be its academic director.

Patricia Aira, specialized in Banking and Finance, holds a PhD in Law from UNED since 2018. According to Lawyou, Patricia Aira has an extensive experience in advising on Commercial, Financial and Banking, and is an associate professor at the University of Oviedo.
