Xavier Rubert (pictured), who has developed his professional career in firms such as Cuatrecasas, Baker McKenzie and PwC Abogados, is launching his own law firm, Lullius Partners.

Rubert is an expert in contentious taxation and has years of experience advising multinationals, family businesses and high net worth individuals. In the case of this new boutique, its speciality will be tax proceedings and litigation.

The firm has its offices in Palma de Mallorca, although it offers its services to clients nationwide. Looking ahead to 2023, Rubert intends to strengthen the Lullius Partners team.
