The Global LegalTech Hub (GLTH) and ENATIC have signed a collaboration agreement with the aim of supporting each other and achieving common goals within the legaltech ecosystem and the digital law professionals sector.

By this deal, the firms seek to share knowledge, participate in and organise events, develop joint projects and share their networks.

"ENATIC is one of the leading associations in law and technology in our country. Today we are signing an agreement that ratifies this leading position at the forefront of digital law", says Albert Ferré (pictured right), vice-president of GLTH.

Belén Arribas (pictured left), vice-president of ENATIC, welcomes the collaboration and says that ENATIC is very active in developing international relations and the proof of this is the signing of this agreement with GLTH.
