Ontier has announced the opening of two offices in Italy.

The firm will begin operating in Rome from 1 January, while a Milan office will open in June.

The firm said one of the key reasons for opening the offices was Italian companies' growing interest in Latin America.

Lucca Pardo, managing partner of Ontier Italy, said: "Before, Italian companies would only look to the East and to the USA when they thought of exporting, but now they are much more interested in Latin America."
