Pérez-Llorca, alongside Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP, advised Elliott Investment Management on the acquisition of Syneos Health, a leading fully integrated biopharmaceutical solutions organisation.

The company was acquired by a consortium of private investment firm affiliates composed of Elliott Investment Management, Patient Square Capital and Veritas Capital. The deal was valued at approximately $7.1 billion, including outstanding debt.

As part of Elliott Investment Management's business is conducted in Spain, Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP requested Pérez-Llorca's M&A and Employment assistance and to represent these funds in obtaining FDI approval for the transaction.
