Pérez-Llorca advised asset management firm TPG on the acquisition of FerroAtlántica from Villar Mir Group for €170 million.

The Pérez-Llorca team was led by partner Javier Carvajal (pictured).

The deal involved the transfer of ten hydroelectric plants with a combined generating power of 167 megawatts and the Cee-Dumbria ferroalloy factory, all of which are located in Galicia.

TPG has more than $104 billion of assets under management.
