PLMJ integrates RRP Advogados and Ricardo Reigada Pereira (pictured) as a Real Estate partner, who this month assumes the co-coordination of the area, alongside Francisco Lino Dias and Teresa Madeira Afonso. Pereira brings with him a team of lawyers that will strengthen PLMJ's Real Estate and Tax departments. "We are bringing into PLMJ a partner with a unique career and with a perfect fit with our firm and with the Real Estate team at PLMJ. He brings a team that also carries this mark of professional and personal quality, significantly enhancing our provision of legal services", states Bruno Ferreira, managing partner of PLMJ.

The importance of this merger for RRP

"This merger – comments Pereira – makes perfect sense for RRP Advogados as a firm and for me personally. RRP Advogados, which I founded less than 10 years ago, experienced significant growth, and we are very grateful to our clients who have always entrusted us with increasingly challenging projects. The merger with PLMJ provides us with reinforced conditions to continue this growth path". The new PLMJ partner founded RRP Advogados, where he led the Real Estate and Tax teams. Before founding RRP Advogados, he spent 13 years at Linklaters, where he led the Real Estate department and was a senior member of the Tax team.
