PLMJ advised Axpo in its acquisition of 25% of Goldenergy, Portugal's third-largest supplier of natural gas.

The deal, of undisclosed value, gives Switzerland-headquartered Axpo a stronger foothold on the Portuguese energy market. Goldenergy supplies gas and electricity to over 250 000 clients throughout several market segments in Portugal and is part of the Dourogas group.

Ana Oliveira Rocha, a managing associate, led the PLMJ team advising Axpo.
