RCD - Rousaud Costas Duran advised market research company Netquest on its sale to German group GFK.

Netquest provides cross-device digital panels and online behavioral data in Latin America, Spain and Portugal – the company has a presence in a total of 21 countries.

Through its subsidiary Wakoopa, the company globally offers “passive measurement software, technology services and cross-device behavioral data collection”.

Netquest and Wakoopa will continue to operate in the market under their existing brands.
