RCD founding partner Ignasi Costas has become the first Spanish lawyer to be invited to join the Harvard Law School Centre on the Legal Profession (CLP) advisory board.

The main goal of the CLP is to deepen the understanding of the global legal profession through research, teaching, and relationship-building, as well as by exploring issues such as globalisation, diversity and legal education.

Faculty director David B. Wilkins said: "He [Costas] has built a solid connection with our Law School ever since he studied here as well as an impressive career as an entrepreneur in the legal sector. His experience, vision, and insights about the legal sector will be very useful for us to add to the board".
