King & Wood Mallesons (KWM) advised Spanish private equity firm Realza Capital on the structuring and first closing of its second private equity fund with commitments of €125 million.

The final closing of the planned €200 million fund is expected at the end of 2016. Its focus will be investing in Spanish medium-sized companies with earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) ranging from €5 million to €20 million.

Realza Capital, via its first fund, committed capital of €170 million received from international institutional investors, as well as from Spanish institutional investors and family offices.

The KWM team was led by partner Isabel Rodriguez and included senior associate Ildefonso Alier and associate Bernardo Martín.
