Roca Junyent's team has won in the private benefit category as well as in the GLH Inclusivity Challenge with Iqualex software, which allows for the visualization of biases that produce salary gaps in organizations

The semi-final will be held on March 22, where the winners from each country will present their legal solutions.

Last weekend, at CEU IAM Business School headquarters, teams from 50 cities across five continents participated in a contest consisting in collaborative development of legal tech solutions, by multidisciplinary teams, in order to improve and innovate legal work and access to justice for all.
