CK Advocats integrates with RSA-LP through a partnership agreement, and can now support clients operating in Portugal and France

A new partnership between Portuguese Law firm RSA-LP and French firm CK Advocatus, based in Paris and founded by Karine Coelho, has been announced.

With this agreement between Portugal and France, both offices strengthen their collaboration with a view to enhancing the legal network with the Portuguese communities in France, and with French clients who require legal services in Portugal.

A spokesperson from RSA said: "Promoting a culture of support among each other and considering the limits imposed by French and Portuguese law, this non-exclusive partnership lends itself to cooperation, sharing of knowledge, experiences, ways of providing necessary and appropriate legal technical services to each client from both countries."

They added: "The signing of this agreement is another step in the commitment that RSA-LP has been making to provide legal services in the Portuguese-speaking world, confirming its capital of trust with the Portuguese and Portuguese-speaking communities."
