According to Sergio Ruiz (pictured), CEO of Signaturit: "We are very pleased to announce the results of the first half of the year, in which we continue with our growth rate. In addition, the integration of Signaturit with Ivnosys and Universign has not only allowed us to diversify our lines of business and our portfolio of solutions, but has also made us leaders in providing electronic signature solutions for tens of thousands of companies. We continue to advance along the path that we have set out to be a top-level player in the main European markets."
