SRS Advogados has advised Clikalia on their entry into the Portuguese market

A team from SRS has advised Clikalia on opening their doors to the Portuguese market.

Clikalia is one of the leading PropTech entities in the Spanish and Mexican market with the highest growth in all the territories where it operates. Established in 2017 and with headquarters in Madrid and operations in Barcelona, Seville and Malaga, Clikalia has expanded its reach to serve clients in CDMX, Mexico and now Lisbon, Portugal.

Clikalia allows owners, through technology, to make an evaluation of, and receive an initial offer for, their property within 24 hours, completing the sale in just seven days.

As William Smithson explains: "SRS is a leader in advising venture capital/startups and it is exciting to work alongside dynamic companies like Clikalia and help them start up and develop activities in Portugal."
