Iberian Lawyer wanted to know who are the women that led the main transactions per value in the legal market of Spain and Portugal this year to date. With data provided by TTR, from January 1 to October 31, this is the result

SPAIN

Women from Allen & Overy, Garrigues, Uría Menéndez, Clifford Chance, Lexcrea, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer and Baker McKenzie have participated in the main deals registered from the Spanish Legal market in the TTR platform.

In the first position of this ranking, we find Allen & Overy Public M&A and Equity Capital Market counsel Teresa Méndez Flórez (pictured left) with three transactions for a total value of circa €23 billion. According to the data registered in TTR, her main deal, with an approximate value of €22.6 billion, is the merger of Virgin Media and O2, as part of the A&O cross-border team coordinated from London. The deal is still in progress and is expected to be closed next year.

Following her, in the second position of our ranking (14 in TTR's), a tie between two Garrigues partners: Tax partner Carmen Mata Pineda and EU & Competition Law partner Susana Cabrera Zaragoza. Both of them advised on two deals with a total value of €4.57 billion. Number three is Carolina Albuerne González, Commercial counsel at Uría Menéndez, with one deal amounting to €4.3 billion. In the fourth position, English solicitor and EU lawyer Rachel Brown from Uría Menéndez as well, with six deals for a total value of over €3 billion.

Close to her, with 4 deals for a total value of €3 billion, Begoña Barrantes Díaz, M&A/Corporate, EU Antitrust and Trade counsel at Clifford Chance, is ranked in the fifth position. Silvia Martínez Losas, founding partner of Lexcrea, is in the sixth position, with 17 deals for €2.58 billion. Cristina Esteve, Financial and Capital Markets counsel at Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer, holds the seventh position along with her colleague, Corporate and M&A counsel at the same firm, Miriam Pérez-Schafer, for a transaction which value reached €2.56 billion. Following them, Uría Menéndez Data Protection and E-commerce head partner Leticia López-Lapuente and Baker McKenzie EU & Competition Law and Trade & Commerce partner Valeria Enrich.
