Tornos Abogados has added Luis Cesteros (pictured) as the new director of urban planning in its Madrid office.

Cesteros holds a degree in law from the Complutense University of Madrid and a master's degree in land policy and urban planning from the University of Carlos III.

Previously, he developed his professional career as director of urban planning at the real estate developer Pryconsa, where he worked since 2004.

With more than 20 years of experience, Cesteros, who will head the urban planning department in the capital, specialises in contentious-administrative proceedings in administrative law matters, such as expropriations, as well as in asset liability.

He also has experience in drafting legal opinions and reports, urban management and planning agreements and land sales and purchases, among others.
