Willis Towers Watson has promoted Fabien Conderanne to Regional Head of Financial Solutions, Europe.

He starts this newly-created role on August 1 and will be based in Madrid. He will be responsible for driving growth, client service, and product innovation across Europe for a wide range of financial risk solutions, including trade credit, structured credit and non-payment insurance, political risk insurance, crisis management, and lenders' insurance advisory.

Conderanne joined WTW in 2017 and his most recent role was as Head of Financial Solutions for Asia Pacific. Prior to WTW, he spent 16 years at Coface where his roles included Singapore CEO and Asia Pacific Regional Chief Financial Officer.

Anne Pullum, Head of Europe, and Head of Corporate Risk & Broking for Europe, WTW, said: "Fabien is the latest in a series of senior talent appointments that reflect our commitment in Europe to strategic growth, excellence, and client satisfaction. He has extensive experience at leading a diverse and large region, and his specialist knowledge in financial solutions is of great relevance to clients during these challenging times."

Christophe Meurier, CEO of Financial Solutions, WTW, said: "Our clients are operating in a world where geopolitical threats and regulations are in constant flux, so we are delighted that Fabien will help them navigate those risks. He is a proven leader with a strong understanding of client needs and a talent for operating across complex markets."
